

VITA

Name: Sowwanee C. Sikkhabandit

The writer was born December 17, 1947, in Nakornsri-tamaraj, Thailand, where she attended public elementary and secondary schools. She entered the College of Education, Bangsaen, Cholburi, Thailand, graduating with B.Ed. degree in 1967.

She was appointed lecturer at Uttaradit Teachers College in 1967. She taught Thai literature and methods of teaching. She also served as an assistant audiovisual director at the same college.

She came to the United States in January, 1974 and started her graduate work in the Division of Instructional Systems Technology at Indiana University, graduating with a M.S. degree in Education in 1975. She then began her doctoral work in the same division. For the past two years, she has been a graduate assistant at the Audio-Visual Center, Indiana University.