

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I would like to express my deepest gratitude to Dr. Skon Varanyuwatana, Chairman of the Thesis Committee, for his invaluable guidance, constant encouragement, and constructive comments. I am also deeply indebted to Dr. Pranee Tinakorn and Dr. Patamawadee Suzuki, members of the thesis committee, for their constructive criticisms and comments which are very helpful in improving the thesis.

I am as well thankful to the Thailand Development Research Institution and National Statistical Office for providing data from the 1988 Socio-Economic Survey. My thanks and appreciation also go to Mr. Thorsab Pholdee for his generous assistance.

The Sanwa Bank and Imai Foundation are gratefully acknowledged for providing the two-year scholarship during my graduate study.

Most importantly, I am greatly indebted to my parents for their concerns, sacrifice, moral support and understanding throughout my study period.

Special thanks and appreciation is devoted to Dr. Pasuk Phongpaichit and Miss Woranuch Wooti-utadom for their help in editing the drafts which has made the manuscript more readable.

Finally, I wish to express thanks to all of my friends for their sincere friendship. I am solely responsible for any remaining errors in this study.

Thammasat University
Bangkok, Thailand

Duangmanee Laovakul
May 1993